

Market Line's Cadet / Graduate Professional Development

Program has been designed to meet both the development needs of property students and graduates and the business needs of Market Line Property Valuers and Advisors. The documented training program supports both Market Line cadets throughout the duration of their course as well as graduates from completion of approved tertiary studies through to eligibility for admission to the Australian Property Institute (API) as an Associate.

The program has been structured over a two year period with topics selected specifically to assist in developing the practical knowledge and skills required for a graduate to progress towards obtaining Certified Practising Valuer (CPV) status.

Market Line CPV's and graduates are committed to sharing time, skills and knowledge in order to assist graduates and cadet valuers in the program.

The program is co-ordinated by Peter Deering FAPI, CPV who has 41 years experience as a valuer. He has worked in real estate offices, as a lecturer in valuations at RMIT, as a staff valuer for a regional bank and in private valuation practices. Peter's role within the company is primarily to support and mentor those in the program as well as being responsible for the company's OSI Quality Assurance program. Currently Peter supports 7 cadets and 14 graduates.

The program includes:

- 12 training modules
- Review and sign off after each module
- Weekly mentor feedback and development sessions
- Fortnightly group meetings on topics
- 3 monthly rotations within divisions
- Compulsory Mock Professional Interview workshops conducted in March and September by the Australian Property Institute
- In-house Mock Professional Interviews.
